From the Desk of the Editor

Towards the end of autumn, 2024, we are going ahead with publication of the twenty-second issue of 'Reason- A Technical Journal' for the year 2023. Both the editors of this journal issue have done their tasks to finalize this annual publication of Kalyani Government Engineering College. There are five articles being published in this issue in variety of areas- starting from programming through environmental study to electrical and mechanical engineering.

The editors acknowledge the immense support extended by Dr. Sourabh Kumar Das, the Principal of the college, towards publishing this issue. Supports received from the Members of the Editorial Board and all the authors who submitted articles, deserve hearty thanks.

It may also be noted that all the published articles of 'Reason- A Technical Journal' are available as open access. All the published articles in this Journal and also its previous version, "Reason- A Technical Magazine", are made freely available online in the website, www.i-scholar.in/index.php/RTJ and they are abstracted by i-Scholar, j-Gate and Crossref, USA.

Articles published in this journal can be of any branch of applied science, engineering, technology and management. Each article is being assigned a digital object identifier (DOI) in the format: http://doi.org/10.21843/reas/2022/iv-iv/222955. Editors of this journal are serious about plagiarism, and from the 2016 issue, all the articles are plagiarism checked using the facility of 'Crossref' powered by 'ithenticate'. A maximum of 20% similarity content is considered to select an article for publication in this journal. Authors are FREE to circulate the contents of the journal volume through social networking websites like Facebook, Linkedin, etc. Authors can also freely upload the articles in their personal or institutional repository, and also in ResearchGate, Google Scholar, Academia, etc.

Editors also sincerely thank the reviewers, who took time out of their busy schedules to do the double blinded review process. Moreover, editors would also like to thank all the support staff in getting 'Reason- A Technical Journal' published. Last, but not the least, thanks are due to the printer, M/s. Datamatrics Systems Consultancy Services, Kolkata.

It is to be noted that there is no processing charge for the publication of articles in Reason- A Technical Journal, and authors will receive copy of the Journal free of charge. Researchers and practitioners are encouraged to submit their original research works in all areas of engineering and technology, applied science and management.

The editors welcome comments and suggestions that would advance the objectives of the Journal.
